Finest surf rock for the apocalypse with a pinch of cosmic horror

THEE IRMA & LOUISE from Bern have been around for over 20 years now, and the greasy basement garage punk trio of the past has now become a graying basement garage synthpunk quartet. A bit delayed for the bands twentieth anniversary, the new record «YEAR ZERO» is released. Since the term "Covid record" no longer attracts anybody, let's just say that «YEAR ZERO» reflects the greatest hits of the last few years: Depression «Black Bile Blues», Armageddon «They Came from Within», cosmic horror «Black Matheme», «Tentacular Spectacular» and in between the occasional saloon piano «La Muerte Sobre Ruedas».

The 11 songs wander between DEAD MOON-flavoured garage rock, nervous synth-surf-punk and psychedelic post-punk, and of course STOOGES handclaps should not be missing. The record is dedicated to the highly respected Olifr M. Guz, who died shortly before the start of the Corona crisis, and whose song "Monitor" is being covered.

Feinster Surf Rock für den Weltuntergang mit einer Prise kosmischen Grauens.

THEE IRMA & LOUISE aus Bern haben als Band mittlerweile über 20 Jahre auf dem Buckel und aus dem speckigen Keller-Garagepunk-Trio von anno dazumal ist mittlerweile ein deutlich ergrautes Keller-Garage-Synthpunk-Quartett geworden. Etwas verspätet zum Bandzwanzigsten erscheint die neue Platte «YEAR ZERO». Weil man mit dem Begriff Covid-Platte niemanden mehr hinter dem Ofen hervorlocken kann, sagen wir einfach mal, «YEAR ZERO» spiegelt die Greatest Hits der letzten paar Jahre wider: Depression «Black Bile Blues», Weltuntergang «They Came From Within», kosmisches Grauen «Black Matheme», «Tentacular Spectacular» und dazwischen wird auch schon mal das Saloon-Klavier ausgepackt «La Muerte Sobre Ruedas».

Die 11 Songs mäandern zwischen DEAD MOON-geschwängertem Garage-Rock, nervösem Synth-Surf-Punk und psychedelischem Post-Punk, wobei die STOOGES-Handclaps natürlich nicht fehlen dürfen. Gewidmet ist die Platte dem kurz vor Beginn der Corona-Krise verstorbenen, allseits hochgeschätzten Olifr M. Guz, dessen Stück «Monitor» gecovered wird.
